Dear Parents,

We believe that you are already aware about the latest reforms being introduced by the CBSE in examination assessment and evaluation process in classes IX & X. CBSE has come forward with these reforms with the intention that the learner should be subjected to holistic assessment including the scholastic and non-scholastic areas with reference to the attributes such as life skills, attitudes, values and interest in sports, games and other co-curricular activities. The new scheme of Continuous and Comprehensive Evaluation for Class IX will commence from the second term of this academic year itself. There will be two formative exams and one summative exam conducted during the IIInd term of the academic year. The summative exam will be conducted in the second half of February 2010. Students who are scoring grade D or above only will be eligible for a promotion to the next class. Students will be issued a school based assessment record which will be continued in Class X also. The record will be certified by the CBSE and issued to the students on completion of the secondary course and appearing for the exam. Different learning experience like project work, seminars, assignment, quiz, survey, experimentation etc will be given along with normal teaching, learning activities and formative assessment will be done on the basis of the performance in these areas along with their scores in CCE tests.

Parents are advised to understand more about the latest initiative of the CBSE and to support the children in order to achieve better grades in scholastic and non-scholastic areas.
