SELF HELP IS THE BEST HELP

One evening a farmer was returning home from the market in his bullock cart. The cart had a heavy load in it. Suddenly, it began to rain heavily. The wheels of the cart got stuck in the soft wet mud. The cart would not move. The farmer began to cry, "Oh! What shall I do? Who will help me? Please, God, please come and help me."

Just then, a stranger came up to the farmer. The stranger said, "Why do you cry? God will not help you if you simply cry and do nothing. Come on, let us push the wheels."

The farmer agreed and they began to push. Soon the cart wheels came out from the wet mud. The farmer was very happy. He thanked the stranger and said, "Thank you my friend, I will always remember your good advice."

MORAL: We should try to solve our problems on our own. This way we become independent and brave.

THE HIDDEN TREASURE

There was an old farmer. The farmer had three young and strong but lazy sons.

The sons did not want to do any work. They were not bothered about their farm too. The old farmer was sad and worried, about them.

One day, an idea flashed in the farmer's mind. He called all his three sons and said, "Long back, I had buried a big treasure in our field. I want you to dig it out and share it among you."

The sons were happy to hear about the hidden treasure. Next day early in the morning, they went to the field and started digging it up. After several days of hard work, they dug up every inch of the field. But they did not find any treasure there.

As the field was ploughed very well, the old farmer advised his sons to sow the seeds of the crops.

Though the sons were disappointed, they sowed the seeds. That year, the monsoon brought good rain. The lush green plants waved across the entire field.

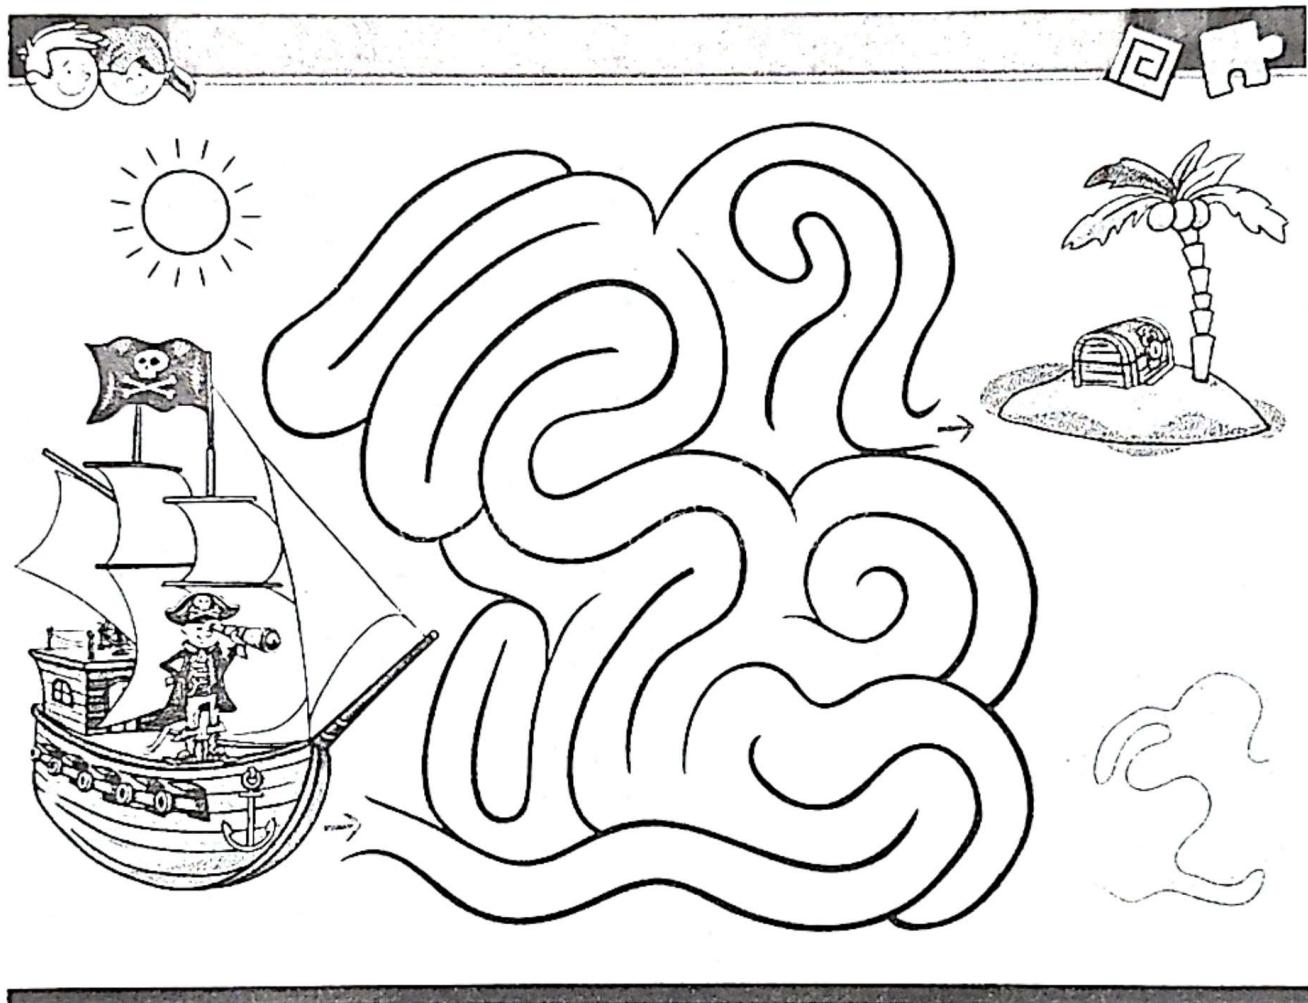

Time passed and the crops ripened. The field was covered with beautiful golden crops. The three sons were delighted to see the fruits of their hard work.

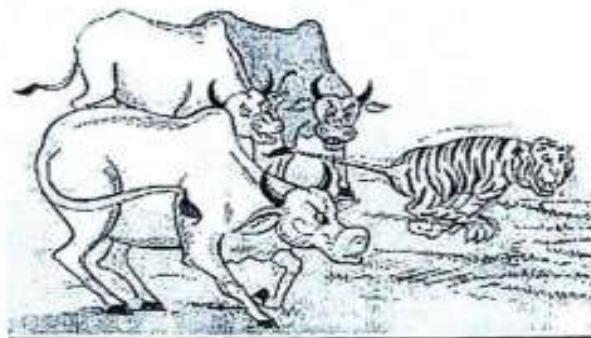

The farmer called his sons and said, "My dear children, the treasure of our field is this crop and you can collect this treasure every year with your hard work."

MORAL: The treasure of life lies in hard work.

THE COWS AND THE TIGER

In a deep forest, there lived four cow friends. They always lived together. Wherever they went, they all went in a group. In spite of living with the wild animals, no one could ever dare to harm them due to their unity.

A tiger was aspiring to feast upon these cows for quite sometime. But whenever he tried, he was driven away by all the four by their joint efforts.

One day, the cows had a big quarrel. That day, each one went alone in a different direction to graze. The tiger got the right opportunity. He attacked the cows one by one and ate them.

MORAL: United we stand, divided we fall.

Q1. Write true or false:

1. The four cows were friends.
2. A lion wanted to feast upon the cows.
3. The tiger was driven away by the bulls.
4. At last, tiger attacked the cows and ate them.

THE TWO SILLY GOATS

Name: _____ Class :1 _____ Date: _____

There was a river in a small village. The people of the village built a narrow bridge over the river to cross it.

One day a goat was crossing the river. He saw another goat crossing the same, walking towards him from the opposite direction.

The bridge was so narrow that there was no space for both of them to pass.

The two goats waited a while for the other to go back. But neither of them wanted to move.

"Wait...I will cross the river first. Then you can come." shouted the first goat.

"Why should I?" "I came first here so I should cross first," replied the second goat.

Neither of them agreed to go back and kept on arguing. At last, they came to the middle of the bridge and began to fight terribly.

As they were fighting, they lost balance and both of them fell into the river.
